

GILLESPIE'S TRIAL.

Jury Returned a Verdict of Guilt and Fixed the Penalty at Life Imprisonment.

CHEERS FOR THE JURORS GIVEN.

Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, Sister of the Defendant, Was Shot on Night of December 8, 1903.

The Convicted Man's Attorneys Will File a Motion For a New Trial—Three Other Defendants Will Be Tried Separately.

Rising Sun, Ind., Jan. 6.—James Gillespie, who with his sister, Mrs. Belle Seward and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Barbour was indicted for the murder of his twin sister, Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. The other three defendants will be tried separately later.

At the former trial a year ago the jury failed to agree and was dismissed. Since then all of the defendants except James have been admitted to bail.

This trial, which lasted over five weeks, was bitterly fought throughout. Three of the jurors held out for the death penalty. Cheers greeted the rendering of the verdict.

Miss Elizabeth Gillespie was shot on the night of December 8, 1903, while in the parlor of her home preparing to entertain the Woman's Literary club of Rising Sun. The assassin fired through a front window with a double barreled shotgun, inflicting wounds on the head of the woman which resulted in her death several hours later. The only person in the house at the time was the aged mother of the victim. Several witnesses testified that James and Elizabeth Gillespie had many quarrels previous to the murder and that James left the home to board with another sister after one of these quarrels. The wounds, it is said, were inflicted with a 16-gauge shotgun and the prosecution claimed that James Gillespie was the owner of the only 16-gauge shotgun in Rising Sun.

Rising Sun, Ind., Jan. 7.—James Gillespie, convicted by a jury for the murder of his twin sister Elizabeth, was sentenced by Judge Nicholas Corbett to the penitentiary for life. James and Elizabeth Gillespie had many quarrels previous to the murder and that James left the home to board with another sister after one of these quarrels. The wounds, it is said, were inflicted with a 16-gauge shotgun and the prosecution claimed that James Gillespie was the owner of the only 16-gauge shotgun in Rising Sun.

There was a hush in the crowded court room when the judge pronounced judgment of life imprisonment and that the state recover all costs against Gillespie.

Gillespie then prayed an appeal to the supreme court, which was granted, and 60 days were given in which to file his bill of exceptions.

The cases of Myron Barbour, Belle Seward and Carrie Barbour were continued until the March term of the Ohio county court. As soon as the clerk prepared the record, Judge Corbett adjourned court for the term.

THE FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

Second Session.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senate.—Upon reconvening Wednesday after the holidays recess, the senate planned directly into the consideration of the bill for the admission of two states to be composed of Arizona and New Mexico, and Oklahoma and Indian Territory. A motion by Mr. Beveridge to take up the bill prevailed by a two-thirds majority. Mr. Hepburn, who renewed his effort to get up the pure food bill, voted with the democrats on one roll call, but with this exception the republicans voted solidly to proceed with the consideration of the statehood bill and the democrats solidly against that course. A motion by Mr. Bates to recommit was voted down. Mr. Nelson spoke at length in advocacy of the bill.

House.—Representative Baker (N. Y.) introduced a number of resolutions containing allegations relating to corporations and rebates. They also allude to the president's recent commendation for suppressing the smoke nuisance in Washington and to testimony given by Secretary Morton in a railroad case before he entered the cabinet. The house is requested to inquire of the president and attorney general concerning these questions. By a bill introduced by Representative Gillespie (Tex.) it is proposed that United States district judges shall have been residents of the district for at least five years prior to appointment and that they shall reside continuously within the district while on the bench. A violation of this provision is made a high misdemeanor.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senate.—The joint statehood bill again Thursday occupied the major portion of the attention of the senate and Mr. Nelson completed his speech in support of it. The omnibus claims bill was read in part, but no effort was made to secure action on it. Bills for the reorganization of the medical corps of the army and regulating promotions of army officers in the ordnance department were passed.

House.—The government's cotton statistics as prepared by the agricultural department and census bureau, the subject of an extended discussion in the house Thursday. Representative Livingston (Ga.) attacked the reliability of the government's estimates and charged that the inaccuracies of the figures had created a panic in the cotton market. He called attention to the dissatisfaction which he said existed in the south over the government cotton statistics and said that the press of that section was ready to demand the abolition of the statistical bureau of the agricultural department.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Senate.—Senator Bard occupied the entire time of the senate given to the joint statehood bill. He made an argument against the union of Arizona and New Mexico on the ground that the people of the two territories do not desire it. Several bills of minor importance were passed. Adjourned until Monday.

House.—The house passed the fortification appropriation bill and adjourned until Monday. After Mr. Lattin (N. Y.) had drawn a lesson from the siege of Port Arthur to show that submarine mines had proven of the greatest importance in warfare, Mr. Baker introduced a resolution attacking President Roosevelt, who he said, wanted to hold himself up as the "Counterpart of Wilhelm II, the great War God." Later Mr. Baker found fault with the provision in the bill permitting the entry of such material as might be purchased abroad and charged the republican party as being frauds in their contention that the foreigner paid the tax.

RURAL MAIL BOXES.

An Important Ruling Made by the Post Office Department.

Bucyrus, O., Jan. 6.—Postmaster Hall has a ruling from the government, which is of interest to every community where the rural free delivery system is in force. A local carrier found in a mail box on his route two letters that were intended for the owner of the box and had been put there by some one in passing. The letters were confiscated and sent to the government at Washington with a request for a ruling. The government approved the action of the carrier and said that all mail found in any box without stamps or the proper amount of money for postage must be collected and taken to the post office from which the route is operated and held for postage. This ruling means that the owner of the mail box has absolutely no control over it.

RECLAIMED LANDS.

Bill To Subdivide Them in Same Manner as Other Public Lands.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senator Bard introduced a bill in the senate providing for the disposal of lands acquired under the provisions of the reclamation act. HELD CONFERENCE

Emperor Nicholas and the Members of the Council of the Empire Meet.

ARE CONSIDERING THE SITUATION.

Nothing Occurred to Indicate that the Continuation of the War Would Be Abandoned.

Diplomats Realize That if Japan It Is Rejected Outright, Negotiations Would Be Opened. Makes Any Sort of Offer, Unless

New York, Jan. 3.—Port Arthur, whose hills have for months run red with the blood of the bravest of two like nations, has at last succumbed to the fierce tenacity of the Japanese attack. Gen. Stoessel, most stubborn in carrying out the will of his sovereign, has seen the advance of the besieging army gain in momentum and energy until to hold out longer would have been a crime against humanity.

The Russians estimate that the taking of the fortress has cost Japan $100,000,000.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Few incidents of the war have aroused more bitter criticism than the blunt announcement officially issued, that Gen. Stoessel will have to come home and stand court-martial for surrendering the fortress of Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—The conference which Emperor Nicholas has been holding with members of the council of the empire, M. Witte and other ministers and advisors on the international and external situation, have not yet been concluded, but nothing has occurred which would indicate that the government is prepared to depart from its present program of continuing the war to the bitter end. Nevertheless, talk of peace has been heard in many quarters, the foundation for it being ascribed to Foreign Minister Lamsdorf's alleged position in favor of such a course on the ground that aside from the humiliation to military prestige involved, it would only mean the relinquishment of Manchuria to which Russia already is formally pledged. There is no confirmation of this statement of Count Lamsdorf's position beyond the general knowledge that he always has belonged to the peace party.

It is quite probable that the peace talk which has been produced by the arrival of foreign papers, as it receives no encouragement in responsible quarters here.

The belief which existed in exceptionally well informed diplomatic circles that Japan would follow the fall of Port Arthur with moderate peace propositions has not been realized. Up to the present time nothing has reached the government either through the United States or other channels. Diplomats here can not figure out the general lines of a treaty at this juncture which both the belligerents could accept, but realize that if Japan makes any sort of offer, unless it is rejected outright as not entertaining, negotiations would be opened; and negotiations once entered upon, friends of both parties could use their good offices to bring about terms. This is the only hope for a termination of the war which diplomats can see.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The Japanese legation Sunday received the following "Gen. Nogai on Sunday reports delivery of Russian prisoners under captivity was completed on Saturday. The total of the prisoners were 878 officers and 23,491 men (including 41 officers and 229 orderlies) gave parole so far. Gen. Smirnov, Gen. Fock, Gen. Gorbatsky and Adm. Willmann preferred to be sent to Japan as prisoners, while Stoessel will leave Dairei for home on the 12th of January."

A CLEVELAND MINISTER.

He Used a Skeleton Arm and Hand To Illustrate His Sermon.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 9.—Rev. Dr. Ward Beecher Pickard, pastor of the Epworth Memorial church, which is one of the most fashionable east end edifices, displayed the skeleton arm and hand of a human being in illustrating his sermon.

Among the congregation were 50 children from an industrial school. Rev. Pickard used the gruesome exhibit to carry home to the young and old alike the question, "What hast thou in thy hand?"

He made reference to Helen Keller, the blind girl, whose marvelous intellectual attainments were made possible through her hands.

"My hand is to me," said this afflicted girl, "what your sight and hearing are to you. My hands are the feelers, with which I reach out into the darkness and grasp whatever pleasure and activity which has come into my life."

Then holding up the artificial fingers and arm of the skeleton, Dr. Pickard demonstrated how the telegraphic commands of the brain were communicated to the finger tips and by them through the nerves repeated back.

FAMILY TROUBLES.

Sanity of Brodie L. Duke Is Questioned and He Was Committed For Examination.

HE WAS RECENTLY MARRIED.

He is a Member of the Family Which is Widely Known in the Tobacco Business.

His Relatives Claim That He is Not Mentally Competent To Manage His Own Affairs—Married Against Their Wishes.

New York, Jan. 9.—Growing out of the opposition of his family to his marriage to Miss Alice Webb, of Chicago, last month, proceedings have been taken which resulted in Brodie L. Duke, half brother of James B. Duke, being committed for examination, due as to his sanity. He was taken from Bellevue hospital to a private sanitarium.

Mr. Duke is a member of a family which is widely known in the tobacco business. His relative, James B. Duke, is president of the American Tobacco Co. B. L. Duke is 38 years of age, and for the last three years has not been engaged in any active business. He has large estates at the original home of the Dukes in Durham, N. C., and also in Florida and in California. He obtained a divorce from his wife last March in North Carolina, alleging desertion.

Incidents followed each other quickly in the affairs of Brodie L. Duke, who was committed to a sanitarium on account of his mental condition. They culminated in the siege of the house of George H. Mallory, Mrs. Duke's attorney, by a woman who said she was the lawyer's client. He refused to have her admitted, and for five minutes she tried to gain an entrance.

The Bellevue hospital authorities have deposited with District Attorney Jerome bonds, stocks, notes and checks, said to have a face value of $60,000, found in the pockets of Mr. Duke when he was taken into custody at the instance of his relatives on the ground that he was not mentally competent to manage his own affairs. Mr. Duke's commitment to a sanitarium was signed by Justice Wyatt, of the court of general sessions, and Dr. Gregory, acting superintendent of Bellevue hospital, said that Duke was afflicted with a type of dementia.

George H. Mallory, a lawyer, said he had been retained by Mrs. Duke in connection with some contracts in Texas land in which she was interested before her marriage. However, he declined to admit to his house a woman whom the servants said gave the name of Duke.

Mr. Mallory was averse to entering into any discussion of the transactions. There are among the papers in the temporary custody of the district attorney's office three promissory notes for $5,000 each, said to have been made on December 5 last by Mr. Duke to Miss Webb, four days before their marriage, and due in three, four and five months. Mr. Mallory said he had an idea they were to be used in connection with the financing of the Texas-Cuba Tobacco Co., of which Mrs. Duke was president before her marriage.

Mr. Mallory said he had no information as to the list of securities found in the possession of Mr. Duke. Among them were bonds of the cities of New Orleans and Durham, N. C., stock of the Commonwealth Cotton Co., and various bank stocks in Durham and other southern cities. The face value of these securities was $40,000, with notes and a check bearing a face value of $10,000 additional. Among the documents in the case is the prospectus of the Texas-Cuba Tobacco Co., which is said to have thousands of acres of arable land at Nacogdoches. In connection with this enterprise further capital seems to have been necessary.

Gov. John H. Mickey was inaugurated for the second time as governor of Nebraska.

THE CHADWICK TRIAL.

There Will Be No Delay So Far As the Defense Is Concerned.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The controller of the currency has in his possession an emerald ring and a diamond sunburst brooch that are said to have at one time belonged to Mrs. Chadwick. They were deposited with the failed Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O., as collateral. When the bank failed the jewelry was taken possession of by the receiver and it will be sold the same as the other assets of the bank. They were not deposited by Mrs. Chadwick, although it is said they once belonged to her. The jewelry have not been appraised and the controller is unable to approximate their value.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 9.—Commenting upon the fact that he had been served with an order by the federal authorities "To produce certain diamonds and gems," Attorney J. R. Dawley, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, said:

"I have not received so much as a pewter shoe buckle from either Mrs. Chadwick or her husband, Dr. Chadwick. The serving of such an order strikes me as being humorous. Mrs. Chadwick has certainly not turned any diamonds over to me."

Mr. Dawley stated further that there would be no delay in the trial of the Chadwick case, so far as the defense was concerned.
